To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to recommend Mr. Kevin Jones. I have known and respected Mr. Jones as a professional colleague for approximately 3 years. Kevin initially came to Indiana Wesleyan University as a faculty recruiter for our online programs in the Center for Distributed Learning (CDL). After quickly establishing a reputation for integrity and leadership, he has become a dedicated team player who seeks to provide external and internal clients with the utmost in customer service and spiritual care. He continues to enhance and deepen the reputation of CDL within the University and has aided in establishing the online Business and Management programs with our clientele as solid, reputable programs. Moreover, he has developed strong communication skills, refined through his previous business experience and several years of k-12 classroom teaching.

For the past several years, Mr. Jones has managed the Alliance for International Christian Business Education (AICBE) program. During this time, he developed a three year strategic plan for the organization, created and submitted grant proposals, and hosted periodic and annual meetings with consortium leaders. Kevin has been successful in recruiting a new provider school, Ohio Christian University, and receiving schools in Jamaica, Guyana and Russia.

Mr. Jones has a strong testimony and love for Jesus Christ and has willingly shared that with students and faculty. Several students have commented on how his guidance and caring spirit have led them to strengthen their relationship with Christ. At least one student committed his life to Christ after corresponding with Kevin.

As a learner in our Doctor of Organizational Leadership program, Kevin has been an engaged, enthused student. He is eager to apply the knowledge he is acquiring and is doing well in applying what he has learned to his job.

I am most willing to provide additional details as needed.

Sincerely,

Mike Bonner
Vice President, Adult and Graduate Operations
